If you stop to think about it you will understand that drugs can lose all their life and power. All the physician's skill and druggists' accuracy can be brought to nought by dead drugs. Dead drugs are really dead stock. Dead stock means dull trade. Our business wouldn't let us accumulate dead stock if we tried—and we're not trying. If you want live drugs come to the live store,

CENTENARY EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Literary Meeting Last Night—An Enjoyable Evening.

The Epworth League of Centenary M. E. church held its monthly literary meeting last night at the residence of Mrs. E E. Bain on South Ashe street. A good attendance of members were present and the meeting was a very interesting and instructive one.

The subject chosen for discussion was Oliver Goldsmith. Mr. Jos. M. Phillips read a very carefully prepared but succinct biography of the poet, after which Mr. T. A. Glascock recited "The Deserted Village," with an introductory critique on Goldsmith's genius, the beautiful simplicity of his style, etc

Miss Ruby Glascock submitted a paper on 'Goldsmith as a Novelist," an eminently meritorious production.

A pretty duet entitled "Oh, That We Two Were Maying," was rendered by Miss Gertrude Wagg and Mr. Jos. M. Phillips.

At 10:15 seasonable refreshments were served, after which, till 11:15, the evening was pleasantly spent in various amusements.

Kimball Piano Notes.

We would that we could wield words sufficiently well to draw a most beautiful pen picture of those who are ever ready to plunge into print and defend an "intelligent public" against "insult" and "misleading statements" in the form of an advertisement. Such characters deserve more than passing notice, but we will leave this task for others, and submit some very plain musical facts. Extracts from leading musical journals are as follows: "The piano and organ factories of W. W. Kimball & Co. are more than double the size of any similar institution in the world. They have manufactured about sixty-five thousand pianos and two hundred and seventeen thousand organs to date." "Kimball pianos and organs are used and endorsed by the world's greatest musicians." "Kimball pianos and organs are fully guaranteed, every guarantee is backed by a capital of Five Million Dollars. If anyone has a "fence" around Greensboro, we did not know of it when a few months ago we "flew in and lit" at 123 South Elm street. We are sorry if our presence should cause anyone to lie awake at night, for we have fallen in love with this town and its people and are here to stay. We have a carload of these celebrated "Kimball" instruments on the floor and are paying storage on a number for which we have no room. If you want to buy from the largest factory in the world at factory prices, come to see us. We are always abundantly able to prove any statement you may read above our name.

THE BRITISH ULTIMATUM.

Boers Commanded to Stop All Preparations for War.

THEY MUST YIELD OR FIGHT.

War or Utter Ignominious Submission the Transvaal's Only Alternative Now.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM

London, Sept 19—A special to the New York Journal says Chamberlain today drafted his ultimatum to the Boers. It curtly summarizes the British position and peremptorily demand that the Boers shall immediately stop all preparations for war. England forcibly insists upon instant compliance with her demands and abruptly declines to permit any further delay. The Transvaal must yield or fight.

SPAIN TO ENGLAND.

Lisbon, Sept. 19—The government today gave the British government permission to move troops across Portuguese territory. This permits ten thousand troops in India to land from Delagoa Bay within striking distance of the Transvaal.

TRANSVAAL CHANGING GROUND

Cape Town, Sept. 19—Persistent rumors from the Transvaal have been handed the British agent here. A second dispatch of a more conciliatory nature states that the impression is growing that the Transvaal is changing ground owing to pressure from the Orange Free State.

The second draft of men leaves here for Kimberly tonight, making twelve hundred troops now on their way there. It is reported that the Boers are establishing quarters at Loogan and Komatipoort within fifty miles of Delogoa bay.

NOT CONFIRMED.

London, Sept. 19—No confirmation has been received here that the Transvaal has sent a second dispatch.

THE CABINET'S POSITION

London, Sept. 19—The London press is now inclined to take the view that the recent action on the part of the Boers does not make war a certainty, though it does place the British cabinet in a position where it must take steps so aggressive that war or utter ignominious submission will be the only alternatives remaining to the Transvaal. The press are by no means urging the government to move hastily except in the matter of hurrying troops to the probable scene of action.

The Pall Mall Gazette prints a dispatch from Cape Town stating that the general impression is that the Boers will at once take the initiative and that an attack may be expected at any hour

DREYFUS PARDONED TODAY.

He Will Settle In Southern France or In England.

By Cable to the Telegram

Paris, Sept. 19—The president pardoned Dreyfus after the cabinet meeting today. Premier Waldeck-Rosseau proposed his pardon. There was little opposition to the plan, it being entirely in line with the government's policy connected with the troubles of the Dreyfus case.

THE VERDICT NOT ANNULLED.

London, Sept 19—A special from Paris says the pardon of Dreyfus does not annul the consequence of the civil and military verdicts against him. It simply makes him a free man. He will no longer be attached to the army It is understood he will settle in southern France or in England.

DREYFUS' APPEAL RELINQUISHED.

Paris, Sept. 19—It is said that Dreyfus will be sent abroad before the promulgation of his pardon in order to avoid demonstrations. The pardon takes effect in a few days.

Dreyfus has relinquished his appeal for a reversal of the judgment of the court martial.

GILMORE TO BE RELEASED

By the Insurgents—Col. Miley, Member of Otis' Staff, Dies.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, Sept. 19—The insurgents have promised to release sixteen American prisoners, including Lieut. Gilmore. Two insurgent majors have visited McArthur and obtained permission to pass the prisoners through the American lines. The majors were accompanied by a Filipino general. The purpose of the latter is presumably regarding the question of peace, as no exchange of prisoners has been asked for.

DEATH OF COL. MILEY.

Manila, Sept. 19—Col. John D. Miley, a member of Otis' staff, died last night. He was one of Otis' most efficient officers and was distinguished during the Cuban campaign.

Bear in mind that on next Saturday night the Southern Minstrels composed of colored talent under white management will appear in the opera house here. Every one is a warm member and you may expect a "breezy time"

One of the largest if not the largest crowds that ever assembled in the High Point opera house was present last night to witness the musical concert given by the Messrs Ely Brothers. Each one that took part in the exercises did well and the program from beginning to end was enjoyed by all The clever gentlemen who made it possible for the entertainment to be given, deserve credit for their undertaking. Their school opened this morning with good attendance.

"The prayers of the righteous availeth much." A negro meeting has been in progress at Asheboro. It came to a close Sunday. There was an old colored man who attended services regularly, but had not found the peace he sought. Yesterday morning the parson bade the people goodbye and started for the depot to take the train for Randleman, his home. Just before reaching the depot he met the old colored man in question, who beseeched the minister to pray for him. The train was due to leave there then, but an idea struck the parson. He dropped his satchel, fell upon his knees and asked the Lord to hold the train just 20 minutes so he could convert the old sinner. In about that length of time old man became happy and there was rejoicing around. When they arose the train was still in Asheboro, over 20 minutes late, waiting on the Aberdeen train to reach there. The parson's prayer was answered(?) He claims to be a faith healer.

New York, Sept. 19—The president of a prominent Canadian bank told the president of a New York bank today that his bank loaned $5,000,000 to Wall Street on Friday and $2 000,000 more on yesterday, taking advantage of the high rates.

May be the Tobacco Thief.

The negro Sam Williams, who was arrested here Sunday for stealing a bicycle in High Point, may develop to be of more value than at first thought, though he is already bound over for larcency and carrying concealed weapons. The Southern Railway has been looking for the man who recently broke open a freight car and stole some tobacco therefrom. It will be remembered that this fellow had a good supply and it has been identified as being the same brand stole from the car. This may make the third case against Sam.

If it is a good thing from your standpoint and a good thing from our standpoint, we see no reason why we should not do business with you. Fishblate-Katz Co., clothiers and furnishers.

Broke His Leg.

Sam Hanner, colored, of this city, an employe of the Southern railway construction train force, in jumping from the train at Thomasville last night broke one of his legs between the knee and ankle. He was brought to Greensboro at 9:52 and his injuries were attended to by Drs. Michaux and Scott. We learn today that he is getting along well.

The beauty of that principle of the law of nature which compels different people viewing the same object to see it differently, is well illustrated in the Fishblate-Katz Co. ad. It would not do for us all to see alike.

THE KENTUCKY SITUATION.

Goebel Will, In All Probability, Carry the State.

THE CAMPAIGN IN MARYLAND

Will Not Open Before the Middle of October—The Police System of Washington City.

Special to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Sept. 19—Representative Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, will make several speeches in the Kentucky campaign, and it is stated by his friends that later he will visit Ohio and make a speech or two in the interest of McLean. Mr. Bailey's friends say that his prospects for coming to the senate are very good, and that his chances for defeating Senator Chilton are improving daily. The term of Senator Chilton does not expire until one year from the coming 4th of March, but it is understood that a number of the members of the legislature which will participate in the election of his successor will be chosen this year. Bailey's friends are satisfied that a good proportion of these members will be instructed for their candidate There is no state campaign of interest in Texas this year, so Mr. Bailey will be free to devote his attention to Kentucky, Ohio and other states in which his services may be needed by the democratic managers. It is reported here that Senator Chilton also may visit Kentucky and Ohio this fall to make a few political speeches.

Col. Phil. Thompson, formerly a well-known politician of Kentucky, and at one time a member of congress from that state, but who of late years has been a resident of New York city, is in Washington Colonel Thompson naturally takes a deep interest in Kentucky political affairs, in which he is well versed. Colonel Thompson stated that he had no doubts but that Goebel will carry Kentucky by a substantial majority. The anti-Goebel faction, he says, are not so numerous as they appear from the noise they make. The opposition, he says, comes from the attitude of Goebel toward the Louisville and Nashville railroad and the syndicates of the state. Colonel Thompson has recently been to Kentucky and he says the mass of the democrats are for Goebel.

Efforts are to be made, it is said, by the democratic managers in Maryland to induce Senator Tillman and other speakers of a national reputation to come to that state to help carry the state for the democratic ticket. The campaign in Maryland is a close one, and the result at the polls promises to turn on a very few votes. It is felt to be important that the state should elect the democratic ticket this year, if the party is to be successful in 1900.

Representative Smith, the democratic nominee for governor, is a substantial business man, and has the confidence of the people of the state. He was elected last November to congress and is looked upon as one of the brightest members of the Maryland delegation in congress.

It is said by Maryland people of both parties coming to Washington that the campaign in the state will not fairly open before the middle of October, and that the contest will be a short one, and particularly warm The republicans are likely to try to divert attention from state issues to the gold standard, while the democrats will fight the campaign as far as they are able to shape it, upon opposition to the Philippine policy of the administration.

Chief Ketchum, of the Galveston police department, was very much pleased with his visit to Washington City, and while here stated that the police system of this city is organized on a high plane, and is one of the best systems he has seen in his travels. He gained several ideas while here, which will be likely to be adopted when he returns home.

Several of the local clergymen of Washington in their sermons last Sunday morning and evening referred to the verdict in the Dreyfus case, and many of the ministers delivered sermons, adopting the persecution of the Jews as their text.

James C. Towers and bride have arrived in Washington. They were married September 7th at Franklinton, North Carolina, the home of the bride, whose maiden name was Miss Mary Carlos Clegg. They will reside in the future in this city, their home being at 1828 O street, northwest.

Judge Clarke and Mr. Paul Hynson, of the navy department, have gone to Virginia to visit the family of Capt. Kinchelce.

Congressman Lamb, of Richmond, was in the city the other day. He says that the prospects in the state are favorable to Senator Martin's reelection.

Site of postoffice at Jolliet, Forsyth county, North Carolina, has been moved one mile and the name has been changed to Oldtown.

Millard F. Briles has been commissioned postmaster at Eden, North Carolina.

Ellen A. Daly has been commissioned postmaster at Portsmouth, North Carolina.

Mrs. A. V. Wilson and E. M. Wilson, of Lenoir, are at the St. James hotel.

AT THE UNIVERSITY.

High Water Mark Enrollment—The Football Team.

Correspondence Telegram.

Chapel Hill, N. C, Sept. 18—The University began its 104th year today, the regular lectures beginning this morning. The enrollment has already reached the highwater mark in the history of the institution, 417 students having registered up to noon today. Several more came in this afternoon and others are expected to arrive every day in the week. The freshman class, which is said to be one of the best that has entered in years, numbers 122, as compared to 103 last year, while forty new men have entered the higher classes.

The medical class numbers 46, an increase of 14 over last year. There are a number of other applications for admission to this department.

The prospects are that the University football team of '99 will be one of the strongest, if not the very strongest, that has ever represented the college on the gridiron. Many of the members of the victorious team of '98 have returned, while among the new men there is an ample supply of excellent material. Candidates for positions on the team began practice last week and an excellent showing is being made.

Mr. J. W. Calder, instructor in physical culture, has been indisposed for several days, though nearly all the gymnasium apparatus has been put in place and regular exercises will begin this week.

Henry Boyles, of Greensboro, is among the number of new medical students

GOTHAM JOURNALISM.

The following is an extract from an article in The Verdict, paying a mild compliment to the New York daily newspapers:

"The people have neither faith in nor esteem for the New York daily press. They respect not newspaper opinion, believe not newspaper word. The people read the daily papers but to discredit their statements and revile their views. And by every rule, a worried, hurried world may guide by, the people are right. Let us lean our arms on the toprail and gaze into the newspaper situation of New York city as into our barnyard. There's the Tribune—not so bad is the Tribune! It is a respectable old hill-horse of the republicanism of a day departed; and now, in an hour of automobile politics, much neglected. Yet, is the Tribune fairly reputable; barring a few old saddle-galls, obtained in riding dubious post for Mills and private millions. There's the Evening Post, a congenial mugwump and Tory: it can't forget that it was once edited by William Cullen Bryant. It chews the cud of hatred and resentment. It is as some old cow, this Evening Post; farrow and barren by dint of years, giving no milk, mother to no calves of policy. It is, however, cleanly of coat and habit, and a doubly decent spectacle by comparison with certain others. If the Sun looks like anything, it's a goat—a trust goat, of stout, valorous heart and vast power to butt. It cannot be called a goat of high principle. It has butted for all sets of politics in its day. It has lowered its horns for Democracy, for Butler and the People's Party. Just now, as stated, the Sun is a trust goat, butting for McKinley. What is that long, lank, hungry creature lurking about the darker corners?—a lean, skulking, wolfish thing! That is the Times. Once it was a brave, well-ordered watchdog of the people. That was years ago. In our time it has fallen on evil fortune. It is hungry and starved. One might with wisdom guard one's sheepfold when its yelp is heard. Next to the Times stands the Press. It is a woolly sheep-creature, the Press. In its addlepate it dreams of the Sun and emulates it. This is error. The Press should not aspire so wildly. The Press can never be the Sun. The Danas are few. And they are never vulgarians; having something beyond mere money. Those honest, barnyard fowls, clucking about in search for corn, and caring little though they find it on a muck-heap, are the Commercial-Advertiser and the Mail and Express. That peacock, splendid of tail and weak of editorial head is the Herald. It is a beautiful bird; and, not liking dirt for dirt's sake, puts in much of its gaudy time on the fence. Those hogs, wallowing in the graceless yet congenial mud, are the World and the Journal. Berkshires both, and capable of piercing squeals. Their prime trait is ingratitude; the true mark of the swine. They go into every man's corn, eat every man's cabbage patch; root up every man's lawn; and muddy everywhere, they are not loved. They are ever craving some decent hand to scratch their backs, in approval of "the World's plan" or "the Journal's plan." No one likes to touch them. Each day they gruntingly claim greatness for themselves in such fool phrases as the "deal the World killed!" or the "deal the Journal killed!" They are very disgusting with their piggish complacency, their squeals, their grunts, and their foul odors of mud. And the dogs of a decent public resent ment are ever after them.

The constellation of Gotham dailies are truly interesting things. They embody many and various kinds of features. None of them are alike. All are tremenduous hypocrites. The Journal cares as little for decency as the World cares for truth. The Herald is a political traitor, while the Sun gives space to virulent attacks on the Christian religion by fanatical heretics. Jealous, envious, spiteful, malicious, not one of them cares a fig for man's character.

Instead of standing as the great reflectors of the best opinions of the land, sturdy for the rights and the best interests of the people; for moral upliftment; for pure and elevated themes; for the general betterment of humanity, they all bend to the tingling music of the almighty dollar. Politically perfidous, religiously insincere, they are ready to desert the cause today for which they fought yesterday. They are creators of strife, forventors of discord; they delight to spread scandal on the winds and to inflame lawless mobs, and any other deviltry that will bring them into the popular eye and increase their circulations.

The average New York City newspaper should not be allowed to enter the house of a man who believes in morality. Their influence for the base is most potent.

It was remarked by a man well known in Greensboro and Guilford county that the issue of the $300,000 of bonds for good macadamized roads would be worth one hundred thousand dollars to Guilford in the way of advertisement. This sounds pretty big, but the man who made the statement is regarded by all who know him as a level-headed business man who does not indulge in wild cat talk. With the endorsement of the best men in the county this movement should gain ground and reach a successful termination in the issue of the bonds.

The day appointed for the pardon and release of Dreyfus has arrived. While this is simple justice under a new name, its arrival is too belated. The innocent man's imprisonment and tortues have been too much for him. The reports say that he cannot survive long.

Dr. Charles A. Briggs asserts that "we can spare fifty thousand of our ninety-nine thousand clergymen." If our clergymen were all of the stripe of Dr. Briggs, we could, with great benefit, spare the whole gang.

THE HAVANA CIGAR TRUST.

The Cubans Dealers Profess Profound Ignorance of the Whole Matter.

Havana, Sept. 18—One of the principal cigar merchants in Cuba, when interviewed today regarding the reported consolidation of tobacco interests, said that he knew nothing of any plan to consolidate the manufacturing cigar houses of New York, Chicago, Tampa and Key West, nor of any Tampa cigar syndicate. If cigars made in the United States were sent back to Havana and then reshipped as Havana cigars, all the profits, as well as all the confidence, would be destroyed.

The municipality of Sagua has decided to assemble all the owners of tobacco factories in the district in order to ascertain whether any of them use foreign tobacco, and if that should prove to be the case, to discuss means of prevention. In the Cienfuegos district the sugar planters are discharging many hands, owing to the smallness of the crop.

TIBBS WAS ELECTED.

THE FLIGHT OF ORATORY THAT WON HIM A PAGESHIP.

Jimmie Was Not Bashful, and His Early Call on Senator Eldridge Gave That Gentleman an Inspiration in Words That Carried the Day.

Below is printed the noted speech of Senator Eldridge of Shelby in nominating Jimmie Tibbs, the Nashville newsboy, to be page of the senate. Senator Eldridge had made the newsboy's cause his own, though the little fellow came to him unknown, with no stronger supplicancy than the boy's frail yet energetic appearance. Senator Eldridge had notified the senate that the man who voted against Tibbs voted against the senator from Shelby, and the sweetness of revenge would come when the opposing voter wanted the senator's support on a local bill. The speech was as follows:

"Mr. Speaker, I nominate for page Jim Tibbs of Davidson county. There can be no ulterior motive ascribed to this nomination, no railroad passes, no champagne suppers, no political pulls. I come from the muddy Mississippi river and Mr. Tibbs from the misty mountain tops of middle Tennessee. Mr. Tibbs has seen ten summers, but many, many winters have shed their snow on his sunny head. His freckled, anxious face is standing there gazing at me now. He is looking up now, but for nearly all his life he has looked down as he has shined the big feet of small men.

"Mr. Speaker, Mr. Tibbs is not here as a supplicant for pity or sympathy. Mr. Tibbs is a man and the head of a family. Mr. Tibbs has met the dizzy, sinsick world and won out. He has not become as dizzy or as sick as you and I, and, therefore, I will not refer to the humble home of Mr. Tibbs or the old mother who, no doubt, is on her knees praying to Almighty God for Mr. Tibbs. I will not refer to the paralyzed brother who, like myself, knows that Mr. Tibbs cannot fail. But somehow I feel cold when I think of that snowstorm out yonder and how it must rattle the curtainless windows of Mr. Tibbs' residence. And, Mr. Speaker, I somehow do wish that the mother of Mr. Tibbs would kindly mention this great senate in that prayer, for, if she did, I believe it would suit its constituents better, and we would come nearer coming back next time.

"Mr. Tibbs, like myself, has been blown into this senate by the sublimity of luck. Destiny chooses her disciples with unerring aim, and those who oppose Mr. Tibbs are fighting God. I will tell you why I think this. I am stopping at the Tulane hotel, by the faith of the host thereof. My wife and baby are with me there. Yesterday morning I had been up very early discussing the question of a new constitution for myself and my state.

"At 6 in the morning Sarah was softly humming to the teething baby, rocking him back to rest, to sleep and to forgetfulness, which is the only rest. The old refrain rose and fell as the nodding of a flower

"Jesus can make a dying bed
Feel soft as downy pillows are,
While on his breast I lean my head
And softly breathe my life out there.

"Knock! knock! 'Come in,' I angrily said, expecting a bellboy.

"Mr. Tibbs appeared. He came to the bed and said: 'Senator, I am named Tibbs, and I want to be page of the senate. I want you to make the rest of them vote for me, please sir.'

"'Mr. Tibbs,' I replied, 'does it not occur to you that you are crowding me somewhat? Don't you think for the kind of a day and the time of day that your visit is not the proper thing?'

"'Well, it is good daylight,' he said, 'and I have been up some time.'

"'Yes, sir, all men should be ready for business by this time,' was my rejoinder, 'but why do you come to me and how did you find me?'

"'I saw you in the Climax saloon yesterday, and Mr. Maddin, the barkeeper, said you were a senator,' came the unhesitating answer.

"I quickly glanced at my wife, the rocking had stopped, and the baby, hearing a strange voice, had ceased his complaint and was sitting up, looking like a jack rabbit in a bed of lilies, all eyes and ears.

"I said, 'Mr. Tibbs, I must ask you to excuse me, I will call on you later.'

"'Yes, sir, I will see you,' he replied, and went away.

"Sarah turned her head and said, 'Will, I am for Tibbs.'

"Mr. Speaker, I arose and raised the curtain of the window. The east seemed flecked with a swarm of golden bees; the sun, that had been away, was knocking at the front door of this planet. Sir, who can tell of the systems and cycles he had smiled upon, of his unspeakable glory and sublimity? The light of this sun will fade by and by. At one time it was born, at one time it must surely die, but, sir, the fire I had seen in the eyes of Jimmie Tibbs will not die. It is older than the sun. It has stood floods of storm and wrath that would quench that sun. One is of today, but the faith, the courage and the hope of Tibbs make us dream again of the immortality of the soul."

THE FIEND OF NERVOUSNESS.

When a woman's mind is constantly filled with nervous unreasoning dread and apprehension it shows that her entire nervous system is disordered and broken down. Nine times in ten it indicates that there is some special disease or weakness of the important and delicate organs which make her a woman. Nine times in ten it means that some instant and radical measures must be taken to save her from complete mental and physical wreck.

"I was so nervous I couldn't bear to hear the sound of my own voice when alone" says Mrs. Nellie Brittenhan, of Davenport, Thayer Co., Nebr. "I felt as though there was some one ready to grab me if the least sound was made. I really cannot describe the feelings I had, but I can say I have no such ugly feelings now and I trust I never may again. I was suffering from female weakness and very much from nervous prostration.

"I was not able to do anything. I could not sit up all day. I had not sat up all day since the birth of my baby, four months before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I took one doctor's medicine for four months but did not get along at all; so, discouraged, I thought I would try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I took six bottles of the 'Prescription' and nine of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets along with the other medicines, and I can say they have done wonders for me.

"I do all my work now and feel better than for two years. I had not eaten anything for three months except some kind of soup and crackers; now I eat anything I want. I believe I owe my health to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Discouraged, broken-down women should write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y., and learn how carefully he studies into these apparently hopeless cases. He will send without charge, (in a plain sealed envelope) the best advice of a capable, experienced physician.

JIM CROW LAW IN GEORGIA.

Grand Jury Indicts Southern Railway and Seaboard Air Line.

Elberton, Ga., Sept. 18—The grand jury of this county has indicted the Southern and Seaboard Air Line for hauling negroes and white people in the same coaches. The law in Georgia is very strict in this respect, and is usually rigidly enforced. Both the Southern and seaboard operate accommodation trains, on which there are frequently only one or two coaches, and in this manner the negroes are compelled to invade the cars in which white people are riding. The matter has excited severe complaint for some time, and efforts have been made to remedy it, but to no avail. Unless the indictments are withdrawn, it is expected that the railroads will make a fight on the law, so far as it applies to accommodations, or local, trains with light traffic. There have been several instances wher in the races have clashed when forced to occupy the same coaches. Particularly are the whites opposed to letting their women ride in such close proximity to the negroes.

SCENTI G TROUBLE.

Virginia Will be Ready to Prevent a Disturbance at Warrenton.

Richmond, Sept 18—Negroes have arranged for a celebration of the anniversary of the emancipation proclamation by a great gathering at Warrenton, Va., next Friday, and in consequence there is a panic among the people of that city. A telegraphic request was received today by Governor Tyler from the mayor of Warrenton for 100 muskets and a piece of artillery. The trouble feared is from the Washington Zouaves, a colored company which a few days ago requested Governor Tyler to allow them to enter Virginia bearing arms. When refused they denounced the the governor and declared that they would go to Warrenton carrying arms which could not be seen, but which would be just as effective as larger ones.

The governor has wired the adjutant general to have the guns in readiness, and also have a company prepared to go to Warrenton at a moment's notice.

Early French Theaters.

The French theater owes its origin to the religious exhibitions given by the pilgrims on their return from Palestine At these exhibitions the pilgrims gave an account of the Holy Land and recited their own adventures. They were afterward imitated by those who had never been to the Holy Land To these succeeded dramatic representations of subjects taken from the new text which, being forbidden by the provost of Paris, the priests of France invited the king to be present at an exhibition to prove that they were calculated to excite religious feelings.

The building in which those plays were produced was divided into three scaffoldings—the highest represented paradise, the second the world and the lowest, which was in the form of a dragon's head, represented hell. The only entrance to the two upper scaffoldings was through the dragon's head.

The actors never left the stage, even to change their dress, and the plays were so long as to require several days for their completion. At the close of each evening the audience was invited to return until the whole were finished, sometimes 40 nights.

The Power of a Cyclone.

Careful estimates of the force of a cyclone and the energy required to keep a full fledged hurricane in active operation reveal the presence of a power that makes the mightiest efforts of man appear as nothing in comparison.

A force fully equal to 478,000,000 horsepower was estimated as developed in a West Indian cyclone. This is about 15 times the power that is creatable by all the means within the range of man's capabilities during the same time.

Were steam, water, windmills and the strength of all men and all animals combined they could not at all approach the tremendous force exerted by this terrible storm.

A Barnum Surprise.

A good story of the late George Augustus Sala and Barnum is told. It was on the occasion of the last visit of the famous showman to England, when a public dinner was tendered to Mr Barnum Mr Sala presided. In the reception room, where all were waiting to welcome the guest of the evening, Mr. Barnum came in beaming, and, shaking hands with the chairman, said:

"This is indeed a surprise to me."

"Did you hear that?" Mr. Sala whispered. "Why, he arranged for the dinner himself."

A Literary Note.

"Your majesty," said the prime minister, "this is the page who has been remiss in his duty."

"Aha!" exclaimed the king "We'll have to bring him to book."

"He! He!" laughed the page. "A noble jest, I'll be bound."

Thereupon the king's heart softened, for he marveled that a man so young could make so old a joke.—Catholic Standard and Times.

Electric Bitters is the one remedy that will give you prompt and sure relief. They act directly on your liver, stomach and kidneys, tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new being. They are guaranteed to cure or price refunded. For sale at C. E. Holton's drug store. Only 50 cents per bottle.

Prevention of Disease.

Mr. Miles Menander Dawson, a consulting actuary and author of standard works on life insurance, says in an interview: "From one-fifth to one-half of the deaths that occur in youth and middle age could be prevented by a decent regard for sanitary conditions and by common action of society for the benefit of all. It is not enough that a man should take care of himself. Disease is communicable, and protecting man against it is a social function.

"Fully one-fifth of the total number of deaths are caused by zymotic diseases which are as purely accidental as falling and breaking a leg. And one-fourth of the deaths in addition are from digestive and respiratory diseases, almost all of which are preventable. About 17 per cent of the deaths among insured lives is from consumption and 5 per cent from nervous diseases, all of which are now believed to be preventable.

"This means that fully one-half of the deaths among young and middle aged persons could be prevented and the proportion could no doubt be greatly increased if parents paid a proper respect to the laws of heredity. It would certainly be a most important achievement for the human race if united action could be taken to secure that a larger proportion of persons would attain old age than at present."—Ainslee's Magazine.

He Did Not Have It.

William Lightfoot Visscher in The Woman's Home Companion tells this characteristic story of the Hon. Isaac Parker, famous as the terrible judge at Fort Smith, Ark., who probably sentenced more men to be executed than any other judge that ever lived. This was not, however, because he was so unrelentingly severe, but because he had the hardest and most numerous lot of criminals to deal with that ever came within the jurisdiction of such an official. One day when there was an unusually large batch of culprits to be sentenced the judge looked compassionately over his spectacles at one young scamp and said

"In consideration of the youth and inexperience of this prisoner I shall let him off with a fine of $50"—

Before the judge had done speaking the very fresh young man coolly stretched his right leg and ran his hand into his trousers' pocket on the side, remarking nonchalantly as he did so

"That's all hunky, judge. I've got that much right here in my jeans."

"And one year in the penitentiary," continued the judge. Then, looking over at the convict in a quizzical sort of way, he added, "Do you happen to have that in your jeans?"

Queer Thing, Chance.

"I was at Monte Carlo last year," said a New York turfman, "and was amused watching the gamblers in the casino playing systems. If red would win, say, four times hand running, everybody would double up on black. The more times one color showed in succession the bigger were the bets on the other, which was mathematically an error, although you couldn't convince a gambler of it. Once while I was there red won 12 times, and over 40,000 francs were staked on black. One lone player had the nerve to put 50 francs on red. It won, and he let the bet lay, and it won again. Then everybody got a sudden idea it would win once more, and it was played to the limit. That time black showed."

"Did you ever hear about runs of color?" asked somebody.

"I did over there," replied the man who had been to Monte Carlo. "It is generally believed that when one color wins the odds are in favor of it winning twice more. There's no sense in it, but the records of the game do a good deal to confirm the superstition. Queer thing, chance."

Couldn't Chill His Wit.

Mme. Modjeska and her company were playing one winter in the extreme north, much to the discomfort of Count Bozenta, the Polish star's husband, who hates the chilly northern climate. But at that time the show business was at a very low ebb in the south. One particularly cold day Mme. Modjeska found the count shivering from head to foot in spite of the steam heat in the hotel.

"Oh, my dear, my dear!" he implored. "Let us go south for the rest of the season. This climate will kill us."

"But, my dear," replied madame, "the south is dead."

"Yes," said the count, "but she is such a be-autiful corpse."

Time to Wake.

Judge Wheaton A Gray was hearing a criminal case in Fresno, and on a warm day, at the end of a long harangue by the prosecuting counsel, he noticed one of the jurymen asleep. As soon as the argument was completed, the judge addressed the jury in this peculiar manner: "Gentlemen of the jury, the prosecuting attorney has completed his argument. Wake up and listen to the instructions of the court."—Argonaut.

A New One or None.

Mrs. Proudfoot—Yes, Mrs. Malaprop, that's an heirloom. It's been in Mr Proudfoot's family over 100 years.

Mrs. Malaprop—Do tell! I've been nagging at John Henry to get an heirloom ever since we moved to the city, but he can't find any, except second-hand ones, and I won't have them.—Jewelers' Weekly.

The Chinese government does all in its power to check the opium habit, the punishments common in the Chinese army for this habit being extreme. For the first offense a man may have his upper lip cut; for the second he may be decapitated.

In regard to longevity the clergy stand at the head of the professions and physicians near the bottom, below coal merchants, milkmen and grocers.

A Word to Mothers.

Mothers of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The great success that has attended its use in the treatment of colds and croup has won for it the approval and praise it has received throughout the United States and in many foreign lands. A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.

A prominent Virginia editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. Read his editorial. From the Times, Hillstille, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—O. R. Moore. Sold by C. E. Holton.

CAMPMEETING SCRAP.

A Negro Cut So Badly He Will Probably Die.

At a negro camp meeting in progress not far from Newton Sunday there was a fight which may result in the death of one negro. The particulars, as far as can be learned, are these:

Several negroes came from Maiden pretty well filled up with corn juice. One of them, by name Anthony, began cursing a crippled girl and her brother asked him to stop. He did, but began cursing the girl's brother. In order to avoid a fight the brother walked off and left Anthony. Then Sid Sherrill asked him to stop cursing the boy, but Anthony began cursing him. As he walked off, Anthony knocked him down with a club. When he rose another negro struck him in the mouth with a rock, knocking him down again.

When Sherill got up this time he made at Anthony with a knife with a blade four or five inches long. He cut Anthony in the neck with this knife and he fell. The cut is about two inches long.

Doctors sewed up the wound, but they say that as soon as the influence of the whiskey ceases the negro will die.

As soon as Anthony's friends finished caring for him, they began searching for Sherill, but he had escaped during the excitement. They vowed that if they caught him they would lynch him or kill him in some way. But after a long search he could not be found.

Anthony and his friends had come boasting that they would kill or be killed.

No arrests have yet been made.

"Idleness and talkativeness go hand in hand," says the Munayunk Philosopher. "It appears impossible for a man to do nothing and say nothing simultaneously."

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. 'Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.
